A FAMILY.....

Mine is not exactly atypical of families, nor are the Corelones, subject of the four-evening composite of the film classics, "Godfather" and "Godfather II."

Tens of millions saw the "Godfather" movies of 1972 and 1974, but a brilliant television presentation, despite commercials, recapped the drama of two generations of violence and power for a Mafia-like family, Sicily to New York to Nevada.

As antithetical as the stereotypes in "One Man's Family" of radio years as day is to night, the Corelones still shared an intense devotion which yielded daily to the thrust of power through gangland organization, even to the present.

Yet, the touch of pity and courage and loyalty we all hope to feel among those important or close to us is felt in society's nether-side powerstructure.

How ironic that do-gooders who hurdled the political heights to dry up America handed organized crime the means to amass the incredible power still held in metro America. People kept drinking and paying for the booze served up in the 1920s of the Vito Corelones. And the substance of the contemporary empires in drugs, prostitution and gambling was created with the billions spent in illegal speakeasies while Billy Sunday stood handstands on the backs of chairs and saved middle-class America.

And it is not safe on city streets anymore. How ironic we legislated ourselves into disorder long before minorities and flower children joined the folly.

My father at 83 is ill in the Midwest. Mindful of a family gathering in Florida in 1974, one by one by twos we are returning to see him in a less happier circumstance than when we gathered at an 80th birthday weekend.

It is perhaps a pilgrimage of remembrance, even while the younger ones try their skills on a shrinking globe.

Leslie is in Lubbock making a good start in grades and float-making, her group's winning the Homecoming contest at Texas Tech.

And her cousin Tom is now in West Germany for a six-months stay to study. He flew on a 747 on which Rudolph Nureyev, the Russian ballet star, was also a passenger. He is a pre-med student.

My cousin Jean is being written up almost everywhere she travels in her year as president of Pilots International, the 20,000-member women civic works organization. And they include my father's sister, who visits her brother and takes care of Jean in Milwaukee whenever she is in town.

A brother-in-law is now working about three days a week in Michigan after a series of heart problems aggravated by too many 12-hour days and the pressures of productive biochemistry.

A half brother drives in from Louisville to visit a stepfather he may not have seen for 30 years. Another, and a prince of a man, attends to his father's every need.

An older brother returns to Florida. And a sister calls to explain that Etta is not all that well herself at 85 and worried about her sick brother.

And they talk of Missouri and Indiana and Wisconsin and Oklahoma, and the glory days of youth before Depression and during it and finishing a second war to end wars in 1945, the one just before a younger brother served his.

All the good things and some of the things which should have been and weren't, or were and shouldn't have been. That's what they discuss, one by one and twos. And the only certainty of such days is more visits and more memories and a closeness in contempt for the oversights which inevitably reoccur.

There is no hint of a Godfatherliness, only a melding of experience for a time of at least three generations, the youngest and oldest sandwiching the responsibilities of those between.

It is not sad nor even final. One by one by twos each takes a place, accepts a role-authority, subservience, success, failure--shown in the violence of those like the Corelones or in the competence and mixed fortunes of those like us.

$3000 Tax Relief

Srs. Ask Board For Exemption

A request to grant senior citizens a $3000 tax exemption was presented to the Cameron School Board at a regular meeting Monday night by a delegation of six women.

Spokesman for the group was Mrs. Bartow Jackson, who cited the fact that both the county and the city had granted the exemption. She and other ladies told how long they have been paying school taxes with no children in school for a long time.

Mrs. Jackson said there were many people who now have children in school who are not paying any taxes at all. All the women said it was hard to pay taxes when they lived on fixed income.

Board President Calvin Cobb said it was a "serious problem" but "the taxes have to come from somewhere." Board member Bill Horning said the district "has to raise an X number of dollars, and when an exemption is given someone will have to pick up your $3000."

Mrs. H. Lawrence said "maybe the school wastes too much money," but Forrest Sapp told her the government tells the school where to spend 90 percent of its funds.

Cobb said the board will have to make a study to see how the exemption would affect the budget and tax collections. Mrs. Jackson said if the board doesn't grant the exemption, the next step will be a petition.

Action by the board included approval of contributing $7000 towards lighting for the baseball field at the airport that is also used by high school baseball teams, contingent on the city matching the funds.

Board also approved a textbook selection committee; voted to accept a plan by the Texas

Association of School Boards for unemployment compensation; and authorized Supt. Buddy Dulin to order two new buses -- one of which will replace the bus that was wrecked. The school received $14,464 in insurance payment for that bus.

Board also authorized Dulin to sell some old furniture and advertise for bids on two old vehicles; voted to sell the house on Seventh St.; set the first Saturday in April as the permanent election date; and set a Nov. 28 meeting with the Gause school board to discuss Cameron district taking over tax assessing and collecting for the Gause district.

Homes Sought For Crisis Shelters

County families are being asked to volunteer their homes to be used as temporary Emergency Crisis Shelter Homes by Will McIntosh, Jr., chief adult and juvenile probation officer for Milam County.

"This type of foster home will provide temporary housing and supervision mostly for children ages 10-16 who have run away from home, pre-delinquents experiencing severe family conflicts, and children who are repeatedly picked up by law enforcement officers because of a lack of proper supervision," McIntosh said.

Up to now truants, runaways, and pre-delinquents have had to stay in juvenile facility of the Milam County jail, because the county like other rural counties did not have any type of resources.

The foster home program is not experimental, McIntosh said, adding that the program has been successfully operated in Bell County for the past two years.

This temporary care, for an average stay of ten days, may serve as either a "cooling off period" for a child who just needs to be away from his own home or as a "time for assessment" -- so the department can decide if it needs to look for permanent placement outside his home.

"There will be no monetary payment for any service rendered," McIntosh said. "The family who helps this type of child will receive a reward greater than money."

The regulations for becoming a part of the Crisis Shelter Care program are simple -- anyone can volunteer -- a family or a single person -- as long as they are between the ages of 21 and 70 and would not have a total of more than six children living in the home, including the foster child.

Milam SS Benefits $762,241 A Month

Social security benefits were being paid to residents of Milam county at the rate of $762,421 a month at the start of 1977, Gus Oldham, social security manager in Temple said today.

Social security benefits can be paid to retired persons age 62 and over, to workers who become severely disabled before age 65, and to survivors of deceased workers.

Monthly social security checks are also paid to certain dependents of a worker who has retired, become disabled or died.

Of the 4847 social security beneficiaries living in Milam county, 2467 are retired workers and 288 are disabled workers. Another 742 persons are receiving benefits as the wives or husbands of retired or disabled workers. Widows, widowers and dependent parents of deceased workers number 763.

In Milam county, 1494 people under age 65 and 3353 people age 65 and older are receiving monthly social security benefits. Of total beneficiaries, 1834 are men, 2426 are women and 587 are children.---

Among The Fortunate...

We read a story in the Herald of November 13 concerning the approximate 175 employees now at Royal Seating Corp., Cameron. The number appeared in a story about a new production supervisor.

Another number cropped up. It was the approximate 425 employees and family members who attended an annual company barbecue at Cameron VFW Hall.

Those numbers mean a great deal in a period when the agriculture numbers are diminishing between communities or cities.

And it is interesting that agriculture is more productive than ever per operation, but there are annually fewer operations. And agriculture is possibly the most aided segment of society by government's alphabetized farm agencies: FHA, SCS, ASCS, etc.

This may be failure, to the point serious agricultural people are talking "strike" for the first time in numbers.

Meanwhile, the industrial development of this and wide areas of Central Texas continues.

The first payroll developed in an industrial way here predated the Cameron

Industrial Foundation, which aided Royal Seating Corp. in building in Cameron Industrial Park. A New Jersey concern is now completing construction and training personnel while three other plants are operating in CIP, including Wall Lake Door Co. which came to Cameron in the mid-50s.

The ingress of light industry has just about balanced the egress of agriculture. Heavy industry in Alcoa and IGC reinstituted for at least two decades stability in Milam and several surrounding counties and towns.

So the Royal Seating numbers are significant: those who work there and those who depend on them. And those numbers hardly reflect the numbers of service businesses and jobs in support of industrial payroll.

The analogy is inescapable. Self-motivation supported by enlightened Cameron planners and doers has created stability in the midst of the longest, continuous diminution of numbers in U. S. agriculture history.

Cameron and Milam are among the fortunate.

Best In Human Spirit...

A third park has been dedicated in the City of Cameron.

It is O. J. Thomas Park, across the street from O. J. Thomas School, both named for the principal of the school years ago whose widow returned to acknowledge naming of the OJT Park for her husband.

A good crowd turned out, along with OJT band, to formally welcome the recreation-oriented park of tennis courts, basketball courts and baseball diamonds to other major civic improvements in Cameron.

It has a name out of the past, but that park is for the kids of the future and those who use the community center each day.

It was once a slum area.

Today it is a tribute to the best in the human spirit, exemplified in the lives of the people who built and dedicated it.

Voters Patch Up Old Constitution Again

Texas voters have patched up the century-old state constitution five more times, but they balked at amendments to allow electronic banking and permit formation of assessment-levying agricultural associations.

These amendments were approved in a light turnout (about 12 per cent) November 8:

- Enlargement of the Court of Criminal Appeals.
- Addition of $200 million in bonds to the veterans land program and allowing widows of servicemen who died in line of duty to participate in the long-term, low-interest land loans.
- Authorizing judges to deny bail to repeat offenders.
- Permissible tax relief for historic and cultural property.

Strengthening and renaming the Judicial Qualifications (Conduct) Commission.

Voters rejected amendment six which would have authorized the legislature to let banks use electronic terminals at shopping centers and other locations for payments, fund transfers and money withdrawals.

Opponents claimed the amendment would open the door to branch banking and eliminate the cancelled check as proof of payment. Bankers, who championed the proposal, said it failed because of the light turnout and because voters were confused about it. Some small and independent bankers opposed the amendment too.

Also going down the drain was amendment five to authorize formation of associations of agricultural and marine commodities producers with power to levy mandatory assessments for product promotion. The proposal was little understood, and some feared it may lead to high food costs.

Money Records Set

New revenue and expenditure records for state government were set in fiscal 1977, according to Comptroller Bob Bullock's annual report.

Nine billion dollars in revenues (and a starting cash balance) supported expenditures of $7 billion, leaving a net cash balance of $1.98 billion August 31.

"This favorable position was made possible by record revenues from all major sources, including $4.42 billion in tax collections, $1.85 billion in federal funds, $372 million in licenses and fees, $279 million in investments of state funds, and $341 million in income from state-owned land," said Bullock.

Foundation school program grants accounted for 24.9 per cent of spending, salaries and wages of employees 25.4 per cent, assistance and medical care for the needy 12.8 per cent, other education 8.4 per cent and capital outlays for highways 5.7 per cent.

Appointments Announced

Gov. Dolph Briscoe named Charles H. Schmidt of Amarillo and reappointed Dee S. Osborne of Houston to the board of regents of West Texas State University.

At the same time he reappointed Dr. J. K. Davis Armistead of Lubbock, Robert L. Grainger of Houston and James A. Elkins Jr. of Houston to the University of Houston board of regents.

He appointed Supreme Court Chief Justice Joe Greenhill, District Judge Herman Jones of Austin and C. Raymond Judice, executive director of the Texas Judicial Council, to the Criminal Justice Division Advisory Board.

Courts Speak

A Nacogdoches County double murder conviction was reversed by the Court of Criminal Appeals because no separate hearing was held on the sanity of the handicapped slayer.

The Supreme Court held a lawyer cannot be disbarred solely for failure to file an income tax return.

The high court affirmed an intermediate court decision favoring Blasting school trustees' effort to annex Laige Independent School District over objections of Giddings school authorities.

A suit by 11 bridge companies claiming the state owed them $400,000 in extra cost for repainting bridges in 10 counties was turned down by the Supreme Court.

Retrial of a $1 million products liability decision against General Motors was ordered by the Supreme Court in a Houston case.

AG Opinions

A county may not reject a low bid solely because the bidder is not a local merchant or businessman, Atty. Gen. John Hill concluded in a new opinion.

In other recent opinions, Hill determined:

Harris County Hospital District has authority to construct and maintain a hospital chapel to be constructed with state and federal constitutional provisions on separation of church and state.

If a clinic foundation and clinic association operate as purely public charities, property belonging to the foundation which is so operated would be exempt from taxation

Dear editor:

The U. S. Postal Service is thinking about maybe discontinuing Saturday mail delivery, but before it makes up its mind it wants to find out what the public thinks.

What interests me is the way the Postal Service is going about trying to find out. It has paid for three public opinion surveys, sampling a so-called scientific cross section of the population, but the results have been confusing. Eighty per cent of those polled said they could do without Saturday mail, but a majority said they weren't in favor of doing without. This has the Postal officials confused.

In fact, they're so confused it never has occurred to them that they don't have to hire a private polling firm to find out what we want. All they'd have to do is use their own postal service. Just mail a ballot to every box-holder in the country and let everybody vote on it, unless of course they figure it'd take too long to get the results back.

One argument the Postal officials are using in favor of abolishing Saturday delivery is that it would save an estimated 412 million dollars a year, a figure not to be sneezed at. On the other hand, if they'd go whole hog and abolish mail service on the other five days of the week also, they could save $2,060,000,000. In three or four hundred years that saving alone would wipe out the national debt.

What we'd do with all those vacant post office buildings I can't say, but I understand practically every city in the nation is now equipped with juvenile gangs capable of wrecking any vacant building left unguarded for 24 hours, a service that wouldn't cost the government a cent.

However, I want the Postal Service to know that I am opposed to eliminating Saturday mail service. Most of us people living out in the country get a big city daily paper and we have just as much right to be misinformed on Saturday as any other day in the week.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Short Snorts

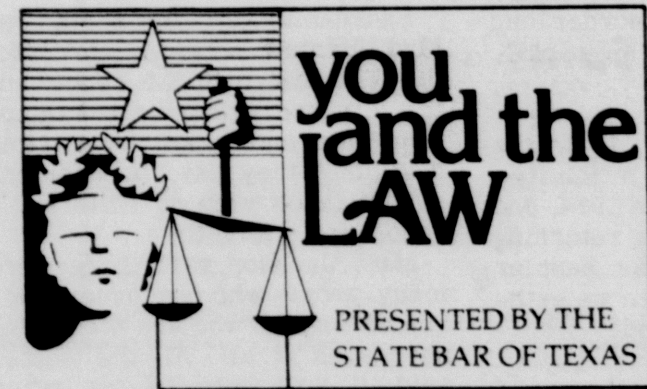

The Governor's Committee on Aging awarded 30 grants totalling $7.7 million in federal funds to support social service programs and nutrition projects for older citizens.

More than 8,000 attended a festive campaign kickoff rally for Gov. Dolph Briscoe in Dallas.

Texas slipped from third to fourth place in the national travel market in spite of a 14 per cent increase (to $6.1 billion) in income from travellers last year, New York moved to third behind California and Florida.

Income from cigarette smoking to the State Treasury increased $2.1 million last month—to $24.5 million as compared with $22.4 million in October 1976.

Former Gov. Preston Smith, a candidate for governor, called on Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Atty Gen. John Hill to join him in filing complete financial disclosure statements and income tax returns.

Q: Can a Texas resident's assets in another state be attached in that state without the Texan being duly served by process?

A: Any state has jurisdiction or control over assets or property located within that state. And judgments can be taken and rendered against that property. But still, the U.S. and state constitutions provide that no one can be deprived of property without due process of law. This usually means service of process or notice of the proceedings concerning your property in the other state. However, notice by publication in a newspaper has been authorized and validated in most states when the owner cannot be located or his address is unknown.

Q: My ex-wife is planning to change my daughter's name to that of her new husband. Can she do that without my permission?

A: Yes. This requires a court proceeding and a reason for the requested change, but it can be done.

However, she must give you notice of the hearing. The court would decide the issue on the basis of good cause and what is in the best interest of the child. You would certainly want to attend this hearing, preferably with an attorney, and argue against the name change.

Q: My son is in the process of getting a divorce, and his question concerns the distribution of the property. He bought a 1973 car and stereo in his name. Who will get them? Will he have to sell them?

A: Under Texas law, all property acquired during marriage is community property unless one can show it was acquired by gift, from a will or if one owned it before marriage. If the car and stereo were purchased with the salary he received during marriage, then they are community property and the wife has one-half interest in them regardless of whose name they are in.

Q: My husband's will specifies that he will leave one-third of the money in his checking and savings accounts to me and one-third to each of his sons. As his wife, am I not entitled to a half of the money he has acquired since our marriage eight years ago? He says that since I'm his second wife, I am entitled to a child's share.

A: Yes, you have an undivided one-half interest in all property acquired during marriage from the joint labor of either you or that which represents income from jobs. If that is what the money in the accounts represents, then he cannot give away your portion. If he does try to dispose of more than his one-half share by his will, then you have the right to make an "election" against his will. This means you can take your one-half interest in the accounts without regard to what the will says. His statement about the second wife getting a child's share is totally wrong.

County Agent's Notes

Rains Put Farmers Back In The Field

By Bill McCutchen
Milam County Extension Agent

The first general rains Milam County has received since May should be ample in most areas to put the blackland farmers back to work.

Fields have been too dry and hard to work until now. Very little yellow herbicide for cotton weed control has been applied but farmers will now be able to incorporate these materials, put out fertilizer, and put land up for the 1978 crop.

Rains generally came in time to keep small grains from dying but they are extremely late due to lack of moisture and probably won't help much for winter pasture.

I expect considerable acreages of wheat to be planted in November following recent rains.

Rains were too late to do much to offset the cattlemen's problems. The average killing frost date is November 20th and just around the corner. This will put a stop to all summer plant growth and slow small grain growth.

Feeding has been common for several weeks and those with usually adequate feedstuffs may find themselves in short supply before the winter is over.

A lot of cattle have gone to market since August because of drought and more are expected to do so after frost.

Demand for replacement cows and heifers is expected to be strong next spring.

Corn Rootworms Can Cause Lodging

If corn acreage continues to increase in the Williamson-Milam County area, corn producers will have a "new insect" to consider when managing their farming operation. Several corn producers in the two county area have complained about lodging of corn.

One producer claimed that he had 10 acres of corn that fell to the ground and could not be harvested. Upon closer examination, the grower found "termite looking insects" in the root zone of the fallen plants. Also, the roots of the corn plant were "eaten off" below the soil surface.

Although these insects (the larvae stage) look somewhat like termites, they are actually corn rootworms. Several corn rootworms; the southern corn rootworm, the northern corn rootworm, and the western corn rootworm could be responsible for the damage.

Although the names imply points of the compass, we have all three species in this area. All three species are different in appearance and biology, and can be readily distinguished from one another. The western corn rootworm is probably causing the most damage in this area.

The adult is a beetle which lays eggs in corn fields about the time sorghum and cotton harvesting is under way. These eggs will remain in the soil until the following year and hatch around the first of April. The larvae then begin feeding on the roots of corn. There is only one generation of western corn rootworms per year.

Although this pest can become serious, problems seldom occur if growers rotate from corn to cotton or small grains. If corn is planted on the same land for three or four years, 50 to 100% of the stand can be lost to lodging.

Rootworms can be detected by checking for the larvae in the soil as the corn is reaching maturity. Also corn plants that have a "bow shaped" main stalk are showing evidence of rootworm attack. Actually, the plants are leaning to one side (due to loss of roots) and the corn grows to compensate for the situation.

Also, the southern corn rootworm adult is easy to detect in the field. These are the common 12 spotted cucumber beetles that are frequently found in cotton, sorghum, corn, and vegetable gardens. They are yellowish-green beetles with black spots.

Although these insects do not pose a serious threat to production at this time, problems are easier avoided when the basic principles of the problem are understood. Actually, the gardener has more problems with rootworms than the farmer since he has a limited area in which to rotate crops. Soil treatment will be helpful in reducing rootworm attack in the home garden.

Houston To Host Annual FB Meeting

SOME 1,500 farmers and ranchers are expected to attend the 44th annual meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau Nov. 27-30 at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel here.

Policies to guide the state's largest general farm organization next year and recommendations on national policies will be adopted during the final two days of the convention. Delegates will also elect a president and directors.

More than 1,000 voting delegates, representing more than 213,000 member families in 210 organized county Farm Bureaus, will participate in the business session. County delegate strength is based on the membership in the county.

Farm Policy Removes 'Boom', Leaves 'Bust'

"Policies designed to take the boom and bust out of agriculture have only removed the boom, leaving farmers to contend with the bust," said an economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"My greatest fear in the '77 Food and Agriculture Act is that the combination of income supports, reserves and set-asides could lead us back into the same policy dilemma that existed in the 1960's," noted Dr. Ronald Knutson at the annual Houston Agribusiness Conference. He said the biggest factor leading to this conclusion is the 30 to 35 million ton grain reserve which will tend to hold prices near loan levels.

"The biggest advantage of the '77 Act is that it is designed to keep the U.S. competitive in the world market," added the economist.

Knutson pointed out that the greatest challenge facing the agricultural establishment in the future may not be that of getting higher target prices but of maintaining what they currently have.

"Estimates of the cost of the '77 farm bill run from $4.4 to $10 billion. With a federal budget of $450 billion, this means only 1 or 2 percent is being spent on policies to insure an adequate supply of food. Is that too much? If I had confidence government could solve the problem, I would argue that we should be spending more," said Knutson.

He pointed out that target prices in the new farm bill are based on the national average cost of production. If market prices remain at or below target prices during most of the four-year life of the bill, farmers with an above average cost of production will go out of business.

"It is possible that the middle and small size family farmer whose survival we are most concerned about will be the first to go," noted Knutson. "Thus the question, what kind of farm production system will emerge? Many suspect an acceleration of the trend toward bigness!"

Farm-City Week Displays Cooperation

AUSTIN—The fact is often stated that one American farmer is able to feed and clothe 56 fellow citizens. But, points out Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, this would not be possible without help from the city-oriented portion of the agricultural industry.

In recognition of this important cooperation, Nov. 18-26 has been designated National Farm-City Week, says Brown. During the week both rural and urban agri-business members will be reminded of the necessity of working together by the theme "Partners in Progress."

"It is easy to forget just how vital America's agriculture complex is with the abundance of food that surrounds us," says Brown. "Much credit must go to the people who actually raise our food and fiber, but in today's world, processing and transportation are becoming increasingly important to assure consumers an abundant, year-round supply of needed commodities."

Smith Praises GSPA For Aid

"The family farm is having a rough time surviving. We are not without help however and those making a significant contribution to keeping the farmers in business deserve recognition. One such organization is the Grain Sorghum Producers Association which is producer financed and under the management of Elbert Harp," said John A. Smith Jr. this week.

"Grain Sorghum made great strides on corn and cotton in the Blackland areas of Texas with the development of dependable hybrid varieties. Since that time grain sorghums have been the backbone of Blackland Agriculture and thus the lifeblood of many rural counties such as Milam," he said.

Over 60,000 acres of sorghum are grown annually in Milam County grossing almost $7 million in sales in 1976, and sorghums share equal or increased importance in most Blackland Counties.

"Like other grain sorghum producers I have a vested interest in grain sorghum production and market development and because of this interest I say thanks to GSPA for efforts on our behalf," Smith added.

"This organization has been responsible for much of the market development in Japan, Russia, Korea, Taiwan, and Israel and recently fought for and obtained a favorable position for grain sorghum in the new farm bill."

"The Grain Sorghum Producers Association initiated a lot of farm bill accomplishments including raising grain sorghum targets from $2.89 per cwt to $3.75 in 1977 and $4.27 in 1978; scrapping obsolete allotments, in 1978 allotments will be planted acreage plus set aside; and increasing loan rates to 90% of parity if an embargo is imposed. This level would be $5.22 per cwt on sorghum on current parity.

"Support for this organization has largely come from the High Plains and South Plains areas of Texas with few farmers in the Blacklands recognizing the impact of this group on their livelihood."

"Take a close look at what has been accomplished by this organization in your behalf."

MRS. EULA CROOK

Pre-Nuptial Courtesies Fete Miss Bornfeld

Pre-nuptial courtesies continue for Miss Cynthia Bornfeld, bride-elect of Bruce Feldman.

A brunch was held at Elan's Restaurant in Dallas honoring Miss Bornfeld Sunday, Nov. 13. Hostesses for the brunch were Mrs. Nell Ravkind, Mrs. Joe Berman, Mrs. Will Friedman and Miss Cheryl Berman.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. Irving Bornfeld of Cameron, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Lewis Feldman of Dallas, mother of the groom.

A buffet was served to the guests.

On Saturday night, Nov. 5, a bar shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Barragan Jr. honored the couple.

Hostesses for the pre-nuptial shower were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rothschild.

An assortment of hors d'oeuvres, nuts, candies, and drinks were served.

Boedekers To Celebrate 65th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Emil H. Boedeker will celebrate their 65th wedding anniversary with a reception on Sunday, Nov. 20 from 2-5 p.m. at their home on West Main St. Invitation is through the press.

Hosts for the courtesy will be the couple's children, Edmund Boedeker and Florence Boedeker of Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Michalka of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Boedeker of Bryan and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Taylor of Rockdale.

Emil Boedeker and the former Louise Hosch were married Nov. 19, 1912 at St. Monica's Church in Cameron and have lived in the Cameron area throughout their lives. They have 13 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The couple has requested 'no gifts, please.'

Class Of 1957 Holds Reunion

The Yoe High School Class of 1957 held its 20 year reunion Oct. 21 and 22, attending the homecoming Yoemen game on Friday night, then enjoying a catfish dinner at Joe Glaser's lakehouse at Buckholts on Saturday.

Paul Hoescher was master of ceremonies for the program, and several prizes were given. Franklin Moore of Arlington, Va. won the prize for traveling the farthest; prize for the most children (five) was won by Gesse Estrada of Dallas; baldest prize went to Dwight Hughes of Tampa, Fla.; and prize for having the youngest child went to Bernice Sims.

Special guest was Leo Jackson of Irving, who was head coach at Yoe High in 1957.

Missions Share Baptist Spotlight

FORT WORTH
Human rights, televi- sion obscenity, child ab- use and illegal aliens hared the spotlight with a "Bold Missions" effort to share the gospel with the world during the 92nd annual Baptist General Convention of Texas here

Evangelist Billy Gra- ham and Southern Baptist Convention President Jimmy Allen of San An- tonio led a consistent ch- orus of challenges to support the Mission Ser- vice Corps launched by the Southern Baptist Convention in Kansas Ci- ty in June.

The messengers here accented involvement in "Bold Missions" by ad- opting a record-breaking $28 million Cooperative Program budget for world missions and by electing a former career missionary as their pre- sident.

The budget allocates $9.6 million for world missions causes and the remainder for a state- wide network of 23 edu- cational and human wel- fare institutions and oth- er state missions cau- ses.

Texas Baptists' new president, Milton Cun- ningham, pastor of West- bury Baptist Church, Houston, was elected by acclamation. He had ser- ved in the position since the death of James Har- ris, pastor of University Baptist Church, Fort Worth, this summer.

E. Edward Schmelte- kopf, pastor of First Baptist Church, Burleson, was elected first vice president, and Jim- mie H. Heflin, pastor of First Baptist Church, Nederland, was elected second vice president.

Graham warned that time is short, even for the ambitious Bold Mis- sions effort to reach the world with the gospel by 2000. He said the world is in the "last days men- tioned in the Bible" and urged Texas Baptist to commit their personal gifts from God to the pro- gram.

BGCT Executive Dir- ector James H. Landes said Texas Baptists al- ready have met the chal- lenge of 1,000 lay volun- teers for the Mission Service Corps suggest- ed for them by SBC Pre- sident Jimmy Allen. A goal of 5,000 short term missionaries by 1982 was adopted by the Sou- thern Baptist Convention in June following a chal- lenge by President Car- ter, also a Southern Bap- tist.

Allen said Carter ke- eps informed on the pro- gress of the Mission Ser- vice Corps.

Methodist Church News

The members of the First United Methodist Church are saddling up and riding fast in our Pony Express steward- ship campaign.

Trail bosses and sta- tion agents were on hand Sunday for a briefing breakfast, prepared and served by Lois Sapp, sta- tion cook, and her able assistant Mable Johnson.

The trail bosses began the circulation of the ste- wardship saddlebags fol- lowing the morning wor- ship service. Early re- ports indicate an enthu- siastic response to the program.

Forrest Sapp, general manager of our campaign says trail bosses report most families are relay- ing the saddlebags with- in 24 hours after they get them, just as requested. He added he has found members of our church pleased to fill in esti- mate of giving cards, in- stead of signing the pled- ge cards used in the past.

If the saddlebag has not yet reached your ho- me, please be patient. It should arrive in the next few days! When it does come to you, don't delay filling in your card or passing the saddlebag on to the next family.

We hope to complete the run in one week, so keep that saddlebag mo- ving on!

CHURCH SERVICES

The children's choir under the direction of Je- sse White will present special music at the mo- rning worship service at First Methodist Church in Cameron this Sunday.

Thanksgiving hymns will be sung and the scri- pture lesson will be read from the Psalms.

Rev. Stanley Vodicka Jr. will conduct the ser- vices at the Maysfield and First Methodist ch- urches in Cameron.

Friendship Thanksgiving

The Friendship Me- thodist Church will have its annual Thanksgiving services, followed by dinner on the grounds. Services will begin at 10:30 with the church's pastor Rev. Richard Re- ynolds leading the pray- ers. Rev. George Doss of Rockdale will present the sermon.

The Understanding Chair

When we are young, rocking is a game. When we are old, it can become a way of life. And in between, there are countless occasions when rocking fulfils a human need . . . to think . . . to relax . . . to reminisce . . . to dream.

It's almost as though the rocking chair understands people, turning their restlessness into calm and contempla- tion.

But there are deeper human needs that find no comfort in the rhythm of the rocking chair--intense spiritual needs met only by communion with God.

The Church really understands people. Its worship, its teach- ing, its community service, all provide ex- pression for man's spiritual needs. The soul's restlessness is turned into conviction and commitment.

Neglected Game Birds Face Uncertain Future

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Birds are the favorite target of hunters in Texas who annually harvest about 5 million mourning doves, 1.5 million ducks, and 150 thousand geese. Bird hunters are usually conservation minded and aware that game laws are designed to protect an adequate breeding population so hunting remains good.

Effective laws, though, must be based on sound population estimates and up-to-date information on any breeding, disease, diet, or other problems that affect numbers. Such research tends to concern itself with the most popular game because it draws the financial backing.

A consequence is that Texas has some great game birds that are little known by hunters and there is very little research being done on their numbers and problems.

Although most of these neglected species are concentrated in the coastal prairies and adjacent rice-lands, two species are widespread within Texas. The common snipe, a shorebird, will occur anywhere in the state if sufficient water provides the necessary shallow wetlands for probing.

A seven-year study by scientists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station showed that this species reacts quickly to changing water levels. Dr. Keith Arnold, who made the study, is a professor of ornithology and ecology at Texas A&M University.

Snipe will abandon an area overnight if water levels rise rapidly. Conversely, Arnold says snipe will move into an area within a few days after inundation when moist grounds provide adequate feeding areas. Common snipe wintering in east-central Texas tend to return year after year to the same local area.

The strong, erratic flight of this species makes it a challenge to the shooting ability of any hunter.

"The American woodcock, also a shorebird, is generally restricted to the eastern third of the State, depending upon the amount of moisture in a given winter," according to Arnold.

"This bird, a resident of moist thickets, has a loyal following of hunters who believe any other bird hunting is mundane. The woodcock stays close to the ground and flushes only when the hunter is almost on it; it is a startling experience to have a woodcock explode into the air from a short distance away."

The other neglected gamebirds include two large rails, the clapper and the king, and two gallinules, the purple and the common.

All are relatives of the American coot or mudhen, and all inhabit thickly vegetated marshes where they prefer to disappear into the sedges and grasses when disturbed. Only when hard pushed will they take flight.

The king rail inhabits the freshwater marshes and rice-lands, while the look-alike clapper rail is restricted to saltwater areas. The gallinules generally prefer freshwater.

Arnold, who is an authority on these birds, says hunting them would be a challenge to any hunter, and probably a bit uncomfortable. These birds must be hunted by much walking, often through thick vegetation and water. At best the hunter may have but a glimpse of the bird before it rockets into the air.

Comprehensive population counts, habitat studies and other research is needed, according to Arnold. If such research were done and then combined with hunter harvest studies, we'd be in a position to update game laws and capitalize on a great hunting resource.

In addition, we could be sure that these great game birds wouldn't die out. Arnold cites the case of the Attwater's prairie chicken which is still on the endangered species list but is beginning to make a comeback thanks to the efforts of Experiment Station researcher, Dr. Nova Silvy and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Silvy, through research, discovered that this prairie chicken was dying out because of a lack of suitable nesting area and food supply. Correction of these problems is helping this gamebird to begin a comeback that may one day get it off the endangered species list and permit limited hunting.

Big Deer Tracks Can Be Misleading

If you come across some extra-deep, huge deer tracks while out hunting, don't assume you are on the trail of a trophy buck.

That's one of the misconceptions debunked in the November issue of TEXAS PARKS & WILDLIFE Magazine. The article explains the truth of certain myths deep-rooted among deer hunters.

That large deer tracks more likely was made by a doe rather than a buck. In Texas, where most of the older males are harvested each year, old does become more numerous than old bucks. The track size indicates age and heaviness of the animal, but tells nothing about sex.

Many hunters firmly believe rutting season begins suddenly with the first blue norther then ends in mid-December. However, Texas' climatic extremes lead to some flexibility in this regard. Length of daylight and availability of food are also factors. The magazine author says in Texas probably 90 percent of does are bred well before December. October and November are most usual breeding months, but in South Texas the peak is in December and there are always some does maturing later than that.

Eyesight of deer is another subject of hunter debate. The fact is, deer are color-blind. To warn them of danger, they depend on their keen senses of smell, hearing and ability to detect movement. Normally they do not feed on dark, windy nights, since they cannot see well and wind handicaps their other senses.

Many studies and personal experiences have testified to color-blindness of deer. This supports the advisability of wearing brightly colored clothes instead of camouflage when hunting them. The deer cannot distinguish such colors, but other hunters can and are less likely to mistake their fellows for game.

Colombia Says No Visas For South Africans

JOHANNESBURG

Reuter - Colombia will not issue visas to the South African Davis Cup team due to play Colombia in Bogota in December, Colombia's honorary consul Basil Penrose said here Nov. 7.

Penrose said he had relayed to tennis authorities here the contents of a cable he received on October 26 from the Colombian foreign minister saying that on no account must visas be issued to team members.

Ben Franklin, president of the South African Tennis Union said Penrose telephoned him last week but he had not yet heard anything officially from the Colombian tennis federation.

"In the letter we received shortly after the tie between South Africa and Colombia was confirmed, Alfonso Rosa, president of the Colombian federation, said he had his government's approval for the tie to take place," Franklin said.

South African tennis officials said that, if necessary, the tie could be played in South Africa. But the scheduled dates of December 16-18 would have to be changed.

Boat Registrations Setting New Record

A record-setting number of boat registrations is nothing new in Texas.

This year the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will register the usual approximate 10 per cent increase in boats, with 515,841 on the books as of Sept. 30, 1977.

John Ebell, in charge of boat registration statistics, said the state's vast waterways, good weather and general economic health keep the state either number two or three in the nation for registrations, usually trailing only California and Wisconsin.

Fishing License Pretty Good Buy In Texas

Fishermen who fish in Texas pay less for the privilege than in most states. This includes the cost of both resident and non-resident fishing licenses, according to figures compiled by the Fisheries Division of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

A resident fishing license costs $4.50 in Texas; the average for other states is $5.24. A Texas nonresident license sells for $10.50; the average for the other 49 states is $13.81.

Six states charge more than $25.00 for nonresident fishing licenses; Nebraska and Tennessee have the most expensive at $30.00 each.

Seven states charge less than $4.00 for resident licenses, the two lowest being Illinois, $2.25 and Louisiana, $2.00.

Most states including Texas sell short-term licenses. Texas issues a five-day nonresident license for $4.50 or a three-day saltwater license, good for both residents and nonresidents, for $1.25. California issues a 10-day ocean license for $5.00.

Many states' licenses require extra stamps for fishermen who fish for salmon or trout.

Bob Kemp, director of fisheries, points out that Texas fishing licenses also are more of a bargain than those of some other states because most of this state enjoys mild enough weather for year-round fishing.

Grey, Mexican Wolves Now Protected

The timber or gray wolf is an interesting creature, but if you're thinking about obtaining one of your own, you'd better think twice.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department recently placed the gray wolf and the Mexican wolf on its endangered species list, thus making it a misdemeanor to take, possess, transport, export or receive these animals. First conviction is punishable by a fine of $100 to $200, with subsequent convictions ranging much higher. It is also a violation of federal law to transport a wolf across state lines in violation of state law.

The only legal possessors of wolves are zoos, circuses and biological researchers who have obtained a scientific permit issued by the department for scientific study.

Gray or Mexican wolves should not be confused with the coyote (sometimes called a prairie wolf) which ranges over all parts of Texas, or with the Texas red wolf, which has been on the state endangered list for some time and is found only in Chambers and Jefferson Counties.

ONE OF OUR NEW PHONES IS REALLY MICKEY MOUSE

Southwestern Bell's two new Design Line® telephones go to great lengths to add color and excitement to the Wonderful World you live in.

The Mickey Mouse Phone® is for fun and whimsy, adding a Fantasyland feeling to your day-to-day lifestyle.

The new Sculptura Telephone takes us into the gates of Tomorrowland, giving a classic sense of futuristic beauty and design to contemporary living.

Like all Design Line® phones, Mickey and Sculptura telephone shells may be purchased in one payment, or with a comfortable "no interest, no carrying charge" five-month payment plan. The purchase price includes a written six-month limited warranty on the shell, while working parts remain the property of Southwestern Bell to insure quality phone service. Southwestern Bell will then service these working parts with no additional charges, should the need ever arise. As gifts, all Design Line® telephones may be either mailed to you for personal presentation, or sent directly to the receiver.

Call or stop into Southwestern Bell's business office to get the feel of Mickey and Sculptura for yourself. And see the other Design Line® pieces. It just might turn into a trip through Adventureland.

MICKEY MOUSE PHONE® Housing produced by American Telecommunications Corp. $55, or 5 monthly payments of $13 each white, brown or yellow.

GAUSE

By Mrs. Wanda Lee

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Neely and twins of San Juan spent the weekend visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Todd and other relatives here in Gause and in Hearne with Mr. and Mrs. Neely.

Weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simmons included Mrs. Judy Marks and Traci of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Simmons, Shannon, Nikki and Michael of Rockdale, Mrs. Agnes Blakely and Pam and Mrs. Arlie Simmons and Eddy.

Joe Hobbs and H. W. McFalls of Texas City visited during the weekend with Mrs. Agnes Blakely and Pam.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stewart of Odessa are visiting at their country home here and with Mr. and Mrs. Lyd Cunningham.

Mirex -- Fire Ant poisoning, was distributed to about forty-five farmers and ranchers in the Gause Community Monday November 7th. Fire ants are becoming more numerous in this area and can be very destructive to young animals.

The Gause Senior Citizens are sponsoring Bake Sales to finance roof repairs needed on the Community Center. The first was held Saturday, November 12th and the Senior Citizens are appreciative for the cooperation of cooks and customers. Other dates for sales in front of Coats Grocery Store are November 19, Wednesday, November 23 and Saturday December 3 and the day of the Community Fair, December 10. Special orders for these dates will be taken by Mrs. Ariel Shaw 279-3708 or Mrs. Doris Jones, 279-3217. Call in your order for weekends or for Thanksgiving.

Plans are underway for a Gause Community Fair and Bazaar the weekend of December 10th. Mrs. W. B. Bailey, 279-5694, and Mrs. Doris Jones, 279-3217, are co-chairmen and will be glad to have your suggestions and help to make this a nice fair. Mrs. Hollas Matthews, 279-2278, and Mrs. Florence Ditto, 279-3598, are co-chairmen of the exhibiting of paintings and other art work.

Plans are to have exhibits of needlework, sewing, etc., exhibits of baked, canned and fresh foods, farm and garden products. There will be an exhibit of arts and crafts -- especially items of interest for the Christmas season. You are invited to exhibit what you have made and want to keep, sell, plan to use as gifts and that you would like to donate to the expense fund for the fair. Plans are to have ribbons and judges. Ask some of the active Senior Citizens for further details then participate.

Visitors last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Lange were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ellar who live out in West Texas. They also visited with other relatives around. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lange, son Chuck and a friend of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lange and Paula of West Columbia visited during the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lange.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Sanders and baby of Houston spent the weekend here with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Stuckey and family.

Calvert City Council Reviews Annual Audit

The Calvert City Council met Monday, Nov. 7, at 6:30 p.m. Mayor Cooper Wiese, Alderman John W. Anderson, Robert Comfort, Iola Griffin, and Irvin Conitz were present for the meeting.

Glen Brewer, CPA from Bryan, met with the Council and reviewed the city audit for the year 1976-1977. He recommended buying a Certificate of Deposit for the excess in the Water and Sewer Sinking Fund Account. This money is to pay off the bond debt.

City Secretary, Ora Dell Nash said that $850 is put into this account each month. At this time, there is an excess of $10,226. About $5,000 will be put into a Certificate of Deposit. The City already has a $10,000 Certificate of Deposit as required for bonding purposes, Mrs. Nash explained.

The only indebtedness the City has is $80,640 on the water and sewer bought from Gulf State Utilities some years ago. It will be paid out in 1980.

News From Calvert

By Cecelia Conitz Heinrich
Rehearsal has been scheduled for the Children's Show which will be presented Saturday Nov. 19 at the Calvert Hotel Dinner Theatre.

A hamburger supper with the trimmings will be served at 6:30 p.m. Tickets for the special show are $4.95.

Those who enjoy watching children and local people performing will certainly enjoy this production.

The W.M.U. Bible Study Group of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Louise Middleton, leader of the group. Mrs. Middleton also presented the lesson for the afternoon meeting.

Refreshments of cake, sandwiches, and coffee were served to the 11 members and one guest present.

Irene Whitlow dismissed the group at the conclusion of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Bledsoe of Caldwell were Calvert visitors on Saturday.

Kim and Lilly Gray, three cousins, and a brother, traveled in several motorhomes to Lake Livingston for the weekend.

Mattie Pickle enjoyed taking her small trailer to Log Cabin Estates near Athens for a fishing trip.

Sonny, Betty, and Cody Gray from Houston were in Calvert on the weekend.

Cooper Wiese, Dr. Joe Weldon Bailey, and Irvin Conitz went to Waco Monday Nov. 7 to attend the funeral service for Will Hammond. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McCrary also attended the services for the prominent former Calvert resident.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Keeling, Thelma and Irvin Conitz were in New Braunfels Sunday, along with approximately 80,000 other people for the Wursthfest.

Walter Wiese is back at home and doing better after his recent stay as a patient at John Sealy Hospital in Galveston.

Bob and Dorothy Norman are the decorators for the new home being constructed by the Jack Harts. The Normans also were the decorators for Jeannie and Allan Wiese's home. Both Dorothy and Bob have academic backgrounds in design and have decorated offices, homes, airplanes, churches, and even a motorhome for a "swinging bachelor", complete with a mink bedspread!

Harold's Food Store was entered sometime Saturday night and money, food, and cigarettes were taken. Hopefully this is not the beginning of a rash of break-ins like Calvert suffered through several years ago.

Mildred Cain had an unsettling experience when she went into the Methodist Church to check a report that someone was staying in the church when we had near-freezing temperatures last week. Mrs. Cain said she found a woman with a blanket pulled around her, sitting on the floor, sewing.

Zanzibar is practically the world's sole producer of cloves.

and three men, wrapped in blankets, sleeping. They were quiet and said very little to her.

Mrs. Cain told she told them they could go to the City Hall or the local Salvation Army unit, if they needed assistance. One of the men told her that they were "servants of Jesus". They refused to leave the church so Mrs. Cain called Board member Irvin Conitz. Conitz called the sheriff's office in Franklin. Conitz was told that these people had also stayed in a church in Hearne and had been asked to leave, when they were discovered. Mrs. Cain said that one of the men said they would be heading toward Waco.

The group ate all the food in the church kitchen, including coffee, and communion wine and wafers. When last seen by local residents, the group had selected the shoulder of the road just north of town as a place to take a rest, wrapped in their dirty blankets.

The Methodist Church, which had remained open for the convenience of worshippers and church members who had certain duties to perform in the church during the week, is now locked, according to Mrs. Cain. She said that certain church members have been issued keys so that they may continue taking care of the needs of the church.

The School Board of Calvert Independent School District met Monday November 14.

Supt. Kemble announced that work would begin on the foundation of the new band hall on the high school campus Tuesday Nov. 15.

The heating system in the primary building on the Spigner campus will be redone at a cost of approximately $2,000. School personnel will do the work. Space heaters with a thermostat and pilot will be installed.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO BIDDERS Sealed proposals addressed to the City Secretary of the City of Cameron, will be received at the office of the City Secretary, City Hall, Cameron, Texas, until 2:00 o'clock p.m. on the 29th day of November, 1977, and then publicly opened read and considered by the City Council of said City, for the furnishing of all necessary materials, machinery, equipment, labor, supervision, and all other services and things required for the construction of certain street improvements in the City of Cameron, Texas.

The proposed work is divided into two divisions. Division "A" covers curbs, gutters, and paving to be done under the assessment program. Division "B" covers drainage structures that must be done to complete the project but which is not an integral part of the work to be done under the assessment program. Bidders must submit a bid on both divisions. Since Division "A" and Division "B" must be awarded to the same contractor, the low bid will be determined by comparing the total bids on both divisions.

The City reserves the right to award the contract on the basis most advantageous to the City, to reject any and/or all bids, to waive objections based on failure to comply with formalities, and to allow the correction of obvious patent errors.

Bidders must submit a satisfactory cashier's or certified check or bidder's bond, payable without recourse to the order of Lawrence P. Zott, Mayor of the City of Cameron in the amount of not less than five (5%) percent of the total bid at the prices shown by the bidders on the estimated quantities upon which the bid is based, which check or bond shall be submitted as guaranty that the bidder will enter into a contract and execute a performance and payment bond within fifteen (15) days after notice of award of contract to him. Bids without the required check or bond will not be considered.

The successful bidder must furnish a satisfactory performance bond in the amount of 100% of the total contract price, and a satisfactory payment bond in such amount, both duly executed by such bidder as principal and by a corporate surety duly authorized so to act under the laws of the State of Texas as surety.

All lump sum and unit prices must be stated in both script and figures. Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding all local conditions.

Wages paid on this program must not be less than the general prevailing rates of wages. A detailed wage scale is included in the Specifications.

Instructions to bidders proposal forms, specifications, plans and other contractual documents may be obtained from the office of the City Secretary in Cameron, Texas, or at the office of Clifford Cason & Assoc. Inc., 900 Washington Ave., Suite 408, Waco, Texas, 76701, upon payment of $50.00 for each set. Any unsuccessful bidder, upon returning such set promptly and in good condition will be refunded his payment and any non-bidder so returning such a set will be refunded $25.00. Mayor, City of Cameron /s/ Lawrence P. Zott 71-2tcT.

PAVING, PAVING at long last for the Green Addition. Road machinery has started preparing the streets for paving, to the joy of residents in that area.

Collision Injures One

Only minor injuries were reported as a result of a pickup-motorcycle collision Sunday near Milano.

DPS Trooper Milton Wright said the 5:45 p.m. collision occurred when a pickup driven by L. D. Wilhite of Milano collided with a motorcycle driven by Tilotta Joseph III also of Milano, who received minor injuries.

The accident occurred one and a half miles south of Milano on a county road.

Firemen Answer Calls

The Cameron fire department was called out at midnight Friday to a fire seven miles south of the city on Highway 36.

An old house used as a storage barn for hay and belonging to Charlie Shuffield caught fire and burned, destroying the building and the stored hay.

The department was also called out early Sunday to a car fire at Vegas Bar.

Funeral Service Held

For Former Hanover

Resident, Store Owner

Thomas P. Gunnels, 80, of Brenham died in a Houston hospital Sunday.

He was born in Bell County, married a Cameron girl, and owned and operated a general merchandise store and service station in Hanover for 17 years.

Funeral was at 2 p.m. Tuesday from Memorial Oaks chapel in Brenham with Rev. John Derr officiating. Burial was in Prairie Lea Cemetery in Brenham.

Surviving are sons, Thomas C. Gunnels of Knoxville, Tenn., Talmadge P. Gunnels of Freeport, Jim W. Gunnels of Lake Jackson; two daughters, Alma Dietz of Dallas and Chris Keeton of Brenham; two brothers, Paul M. Gunnels of Freeport and Dave Gunnels of Cameron; sisters, Mrs. Adella Gunter of Austin and Mrs. Mary Smith of Austin; 17 grandchildren and 29 great grandchildren.

County Hears Report On Tax Update

Milam County Commissioners discussed a street in Minerva, a Farm to Market road for Gauge, heard a report from Leon Brady on updating county tax rolls and granted his request for extra help.

County Judge O. B. Harden recommended that each county office make up a budget for 1979 so that commissioners can figure out what increase in taxes will be necessary.

The court also canvassed election returns, voted to hire Harris, Havens & Co. for an annual audit, and discussed hiring Thomas Y. Pickett to assess oil and minerals, utilities and industries for next year.

County Auditor John Andres read officials' reports, and also reported that $210 had been paid out in October as bounties on 28 wolves killed in the county.

Council Agenda Short

A short agenda awaits Cameron city councilmen for their regular meeting at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, but one never knows what might come up.

The agenda includes a discussion by Councilman Dale Smith about street paving from East 15 to North Jackson, and an overlay on North Jackson from Sixth St. to 21st St.

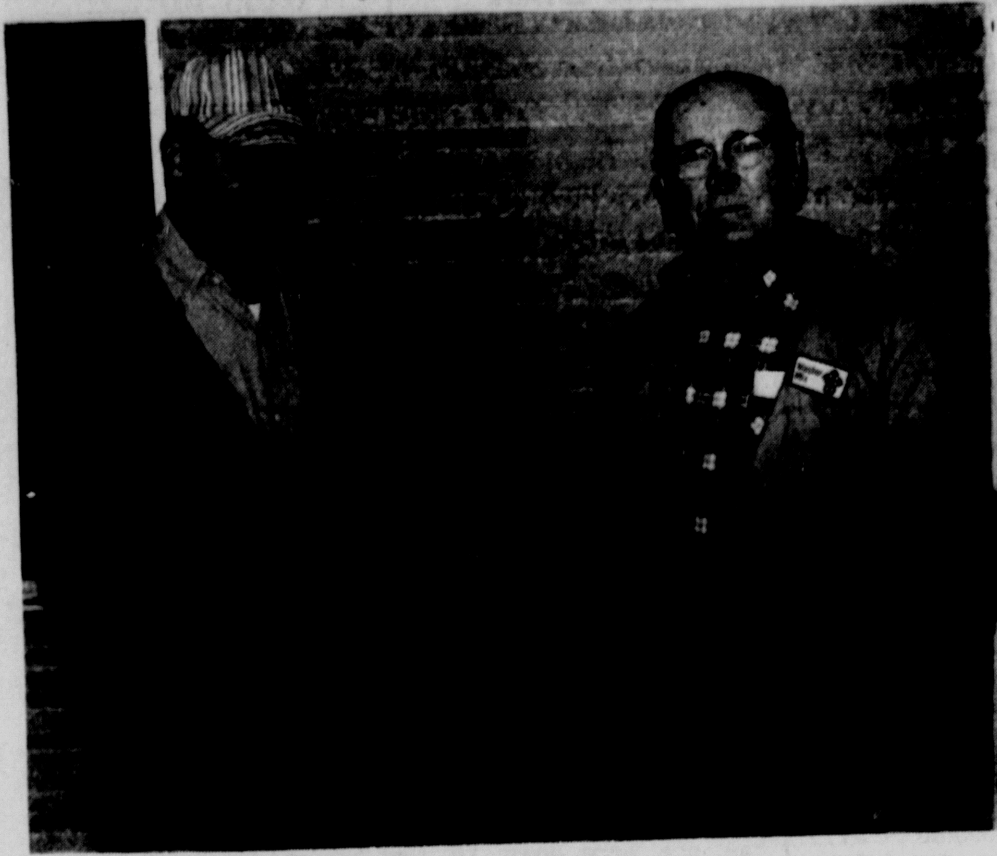

Also coming up for discussion will be the lighting for the baseball field, and a sewer line to the park on 12th St.

Tiger Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the Rockdale - Brady bi-district football game at Round Rock Friday are now on sale at Rockdale High School.

Rockdale won the district 23AA title with seven district wins and no losses. This is the third straight year for the Tigers in schoolboy playoffs.

'Gift' Elderly With Touch Of Independence

"Gift" the elderly this Christmas with a touch of independence, suggests Sue Young, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

For those who "have everything," give to enhance the aging person's living independently longer, and perhaps prevent a serious accident.

Very little money is required for:

- a night light for bedroom, bath or hallway.
- luminous cover plates on wall switches
- a bedside table
- a table or floor lamp (older people need more light; also, they should not depend on ceiling fixtures, which require bulb-changing, which is, in turn, dangerous for older persons.)

Other ways to give -- a little money, and a little time:

- install an outside lamp to light walkway, or handrails on steps and porches.
- apply abrasive strips on stairways and bathtubs
- provide bedside telephone outlet
- paint a room a light color (light warm color helps illuminate; warm color gives feeling of homelike warmth)
- install a horizontal grab bar on the wall over bathtub
- install an emergency push button or signal device in the bathroom.

Milano News

By Jeanne Williams
Dr. Robert Brakemeier, MD. of obstetrics and gynecology at Scott and White Hospital in Temple, will be guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Milano Young Homemakers. The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday Nov. 21 in the Milano High School homemaking department.

Invitations have been sent to the Cameron and Rockdale YHT Chapters. President LaNell Jones said, "We urge all area women to attend this meeting."

The newest of the self-basted turkeys is broth-basted. This means a concentrated seasoned turkey broth was added deep in the meat at the time of processing. During roasting, this broth cooks out to baste the turkey both inside and out. This results in one of the most moist, flavorful, and tender turkeys ever.
